SATURDAY 17 OCTOBER 2015 AT 11AM

IMPORTANT NOTES

ALL LOTS ARE SOLD SUBJECT TO OUR TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALE PRINTED ON PAGE 2

BUYERS' COMMISSION

20% (24.6% including VAT) is added to the hammer price of all lots. A further 3% (plus VAT) is charged by Invaluable to on-line bidders.

ROOM BIDDERS

1. Room bidders must register and obtain a bidding number on arrival. Proof of identity is required from clients new to us.
2. If successful in obtaining a lot please ensure you display your number clearly to the auctioneer and that it is your number that is called out. If there is any doubt about the hammer price or buyer, please draw this to the attention of the auctioneer immediately.
3. Payment may be made by cash, bank draft, cleared cheque, debit or credit card – we accept Mastercard or Visa (a charge of 2% is made on credit card transactions). There is no charge on debit card transactions.

LIVE INTERNET BIDDING

You can bid "live" at this auction on our website. With live audio and visual broadcast you can see and hear the auctioneer and bid at the click of a mouse from the comfort of your home or office or wherever you can log on to the world wide web. You can even get an iPhone app to bid live at Whyte's from your mobile phone. Details from our website, www.whytes.ie The provider of our live bidding platform charges a fee of 3% of hammer price to purchasers.

ABSENTEE BIDDING

1. If you are unable to attend you may bid before the sale, using the form provided. Enter the maximum you are prepared to offer for each lot and the auctioneer will represent you as if you are personally attending the sale. Lots are knocked down at one step above the next highest bid, and not necessarily at your highest bid. Example: your bid is €1000 and next highest bid is €800 – the hammer price is €850.
2. LIMIT BIDDING: Absentee bidders may limit their total purchases to a set amount by entering their limit on the bidding form. This is especially useful for bidders wishing to cover as many lots as possible while setting a maximum amount to spend.
3. "OR" BIDDING: Absentee bidders who wish to bid on two or more lots, but only wish to purchase one, may do so by entering "OR" between the bids – the lots will be bid on in catalogue order.
4. EQUAL BIDS: In the event of equal bids being received for the same lot the first received will be given preference. If the instruction "break ties" is entered on the bid form the auctioneer will increase the bid by one step in the event of equal bids being received or in the event of a tie with a room bidder.

5. "BUY" BIDS: Unless otherwise instructed bids of "Buy" or "Buy at Best" shall be taken to indicate bids of up to three times the stated higher estimate in the catalogue.
6. INVOICING AND PAYMENT: Successful absentee bidders will be sent a pro forma invoice immediately after the sale with details of payment methods. All invoices must be paid within 7 days of the date of the sale or the lot(s) may be deemed in default and any subsequent losses incurred on resale become the responsibility of the bidder. The Auctioneers and House Agents Act, under which we are licensed to hold public auctions, only allows for lots to be handed over to purchasers when paid for in full.

TELEPHONE BIDDING

Subject to availability we can telephone clients during the sale. This facility is only available on lots with a lower estimate of €500 or more.

CONDITION OF LOTS

Note: The lots in this sale are old artefacts and documents and vary greatly in condition. They are therefore offered with all faults and buyers are strongly recommended to satisfy themselves as to condition by inspecting them beforehand. Please see Terms and Conditions on page 7.

SHIPPING / POSTAGE

We do not handle this ourselves but will recommend a suitable company who can collect your purchases on your behalf and pack and despatch them to you once they have been paid for.

PRICES REALISED

A complete list of prices realised and unsold lots will be sent automatically to all absentee bidders and will be posted to our Internet website (www.whytes.ie) on the day after the sale.

FIREARMS

Most firearms offered in this sale are either antiques or deactivated. Those that are not can only be delivered to persons with a valid firearms licence.

EXPORT LICENCES

May be required for objects of archaeological interest or of national importance sold to buyers outside the State.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALE NOTICE

Whyte & Sons Auctioneers Limited, trading as Whyte's, exercises all reasonable care to ensure that all descriptions are reliable and accurate, and that each item is genuine unless the contrary is indicated. However, the descriptions are not intended to be, are not and are not to be taken to be, statements of fact or representations of fact in relation to the lot. They are statements of the opinion of Whyte's, and attention is particularly drawn to clause 5 set out below. Comments and opinions, which may be found in or on lots as labels, notes, lists, catalogue prices, or any other means of expression, do not constitute part of lot descriptions and are not to be taken as such unless they are made or specifically verified by Whyte's.

Clause 1

- (a) Each lot is put up subject to any reserve price imposed by the vendor
- (b) Subject to sub-clause (a) of this clause, the highest bidder for each lot shall be the buyer thereof
- (c) If any dispute arises as to the highest bidder the auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to determine the dispute and may put up again and re-sell the lot in respect of which the dispute arises

Clause 2

- (a) The bidding and advances shall be regulated by and at the absolute discretion of the auctioneer and he shall have the right to refuse any bid or bids. NOTE: Where an agent bids, even on behalf of a disclosed client, the auctioneer nevertheless has the right at his discretion to refuse any such bid.
- (b) The buyer of each lot shall immediately on its sale, if required by the auctioneer, give him the name and address of the buyer and pay to Whyte's at his discretion the whole or part of the purchase money. If the buyer of any lot fails to comply with any such requirement Whyte's may put up again and re-sell the lot; if upon such re-sale a lower price is obtained than was obtained on the first sale the buyer in default on the first sale shall make good the difference in price and expenses of re-sale which shall become a debt due from him.
- (c) Where an agent purchases on behalf of an undisclosed client such agent shall be personally liable for payment of the purchase money to Whyte's and for safe delivery of the lot to the said client.

Clause 3

- (a) Whyte's reserves the rights to bid on behalf of clients including vendors, but shall not be liable for errors or omissions in executing instructions to bid.
- (b) Whyte's reserves the rights, before or during a sale, to group together lots belonging to the same vendor, to split up and to withdraw any lot or lots at Whyte's absolute discretion and without giving any reason in any case.
- (c) Whyte's acts as agent only, and therefore shall not be liable for any default of the buyer or vendor.

Clause 4

- (a) Each lot shall be at the buyer's risk from the fall of the hammer and shall be paid for in full before delivery and taken away at his expense within one day of the sale. The buyer will be responsible for all removal, storage and insurance charges in respect of any lot which has not been collected within one day of the date of sale.
- (b) If any buyer fails to pay in full for any lot within 7 days of the date of sale such lot may at any time thereafter at Whyte's discretion be put up for sale by auction again or sold privately; if upon such re-sale a lower price is obtained than was obtained on the first sale the buyer in default on the first sale shall make good the difference in price and the expenses of re-sale which shall become debt due from him.
- (c) Interest at 2 per cent per month and legal costs (if any) for recovery of monies due shall be payable by the buyer on any overdue account.

Clause 5

- (a) All lots are made available for inspection before each sale and each buyer, by making a bid, acknowledges that he has satisfied himself as to the physical condition, age and catalogue description of each lot (including but not restricted to whether the lot is damaged or has been repaired or restored).
- (b) All lots are sold with all faults and imperfections and errors of description and Whyte's and its employees, servants or agents shall not be responsible for any error of description or for the condition or authenticity of any lot, save for Clause 5 (c) below.

Written or verbal condition reports may be supplied by Whyte's on request but these are merely statements of opinion, and any error or omission in these reports may not be taken as grounds for a cancellation of sale or refund of any part of the purchase price or the cost of any repairs to the lot or lots reported on

- (c) If any lot sold at this auction is subsequently proved to be a "deliberate forgery", Whyte's will cancel the sale and refund to the buyer the total amount paid by the buyer for the item, in the currency of the original sale. The onus of proving a lot to be a "deliberate forgery" is on the buyer. For these purposes, "deliberate forgery" means a lot that in Whyte's reasonable opinion is an imitation created to deceive as to authorship, where the correct description of such authorship is not reflected by the description in the catalogue (taking into account any Glossary of Terms). No lot shall be considered a deliberate forgery by reason only of any damage and/or restoration and/or modification work of any kind (including repainting or overpainting). This guarantee does not apply if (i) either the catalogue description was in accordance with the generally accepted opinions of scholars and experts at the date of the sale, or the catalogue description indicated that there was a conflict of such opinions; (ii) or the only method of establishing at the date of the sale that the item was a counterfeit would have been by means of processes not then generally available or accepted, unreasonably expensive or impractical to use; or likely to have caused damage to the lot or likely (in Whyte's reasonable opinion) to have caused loss of value to the lot; or (iii) there has been no material loss in value of the lot from its value had it been in accordance with its description. This guarantee is provided for a period of seven (7) years after the date of the relevant auction, is solely for the benefit of the buyer and may not be transferred to any third party. Whyte's has discretion to extend the guarantee for a longer period. To be able to claim under this Guarantee, the buyer must (i) notify Whyte's in writing within three (3) weeks of receiving any information that causes the buyer to question the authenticity or attribution of the item, specifying the lot number, date of the auction at which it was purchased and the reasons why it is thought to be a deliberate forgery; and (ii) return the item to Whyte's in the same condition as the date of the sale to the buyer and be able to transfer good title in the item, free from the third party claims arising after the date of the sale. Whyte's has discretion to waive any of the above requirements. Whyte's may require the buyer to obtain at the buyer's cost the reports of two independent and recognised experts in the field, mutually acceptable to Whyte's and the buyer. Whyte's shall not be bound by any reports produced by the buyer, and reserves the right to seek additional expert advice at its own expense. In the event Whyte's decides to rescind the sale under this Guarantee, it may refund the buyer the reasonable costs of up to two mutually approved independent expert reports.

- (d) Any lot listed as a "mixed lot, collection, range, portfolio etc." or stated to comprise or contain a collection or range of items which are not described shall be put up for sale not subject to rejection and shall be taken by the buyer with all (if any) faults, lack of genuineness and errors of description and numbers of items in the lot, and the buyer shall have no right to reject the lot; except that, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this sub-clause, where before a sale a person intending to bid at the sale gives notice in writing to, and satisfies Whyte's that any such lot contains any item or items not described in the sale catalogue and that person specifically describes that item or those items in that notice, then that item or those items shall, as between Whyte's and that person, be taken to form part of the description of the lot.

Clause 6

The respective rights and obligations of the parties shall be governed and interpreted by Irish law, and the buyer hereby submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Irish Courts.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

- (a) The buyer shall pay Whyte's a commission at the rate of 20% (excluding VAT under The Margin Scheme and which is not reclaimable). On-line buyers shall pay a further fee of 3% (excluding VAT).
 - (b) Whyte's or its employees, servants or agents may, on request organise packing and shipping of lots purchased or may order on the buyer's behalf third parties to pack or ship purchases. Under no circumstances does Whyte's accept any liability whatsoever for any loss or damage howsoever occasioned in the course of such service.
 - (c) The buyer authorises Whyte's to use any photographs or illustrations of any lot purchased for any or all purposes as Whyte's may require.
- The placing of a bid will be taken as full agreement to all the above conditions.

Gordon-Cumming, traveller and sportsman, was the second son of Sir William Gordon Gordon-Cumming. In 1843, with an ox wagon and a few native followers set out for the interior of Africa. He hunted chiefly in Bechuanaland and the valley of the Limpopo River, regions then swarming with big game. His account Five Years of a Hunter's Life in the Far Interior of South Africa was published in 1850. This figure was probably created in 1856 to coincide with the publication of an abridged version of his book called “The Lion Hunter of South Africa”

William Martin Murphy (1845-1919) trained as an architect and moved his father's contracting business from Bantry to Dublin in the 1870s. He became a director of the Dublin United Tramways Company and spearheaded the electrification of Dublin's trams. In addition to his contracting activities Murphy was a co-founder of the Dublin department store, Clery & Co. and the proprietor of the Independent, Evening Herald and Irish Catholic newspapers. He was Member of Parliament for the St Patrick's division of Dublin from 1885 until 1892. He was the originator and chief promoter of the Irish International Exhibition of 1907 but refused a knighthood from Edward VII in the same year. Murphy was one of the chief opponents of the workers during the Dublin strike of 1913.

A pen and watercolour full length study of a smiling, rosy-cheeked Canadian soldier, with the shoulder patch of the 14th Battalion, 1st Canadian Division, by Henry Ross Wiggs (1895-1986) Canadian. Signed and titled, "Tommy". Framed."

H. Ross Wiggs, architect and painter, was born in Quebec City in 1895. He studied Architecture at McGill University and at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In Montreal, he practiced architecture from 1933 to 1967, primarily on his own and with partners Lawton and Walker from 1955 to 1967. He studied drawing and painting with William Brymner and Maurice Cullen. Wiggs served in the First World War and his war drawings are in the collection of the War Museum in Ottawa. Wiggs was also Chairman of the Historical and Fine Buildings Committee from 1953 to 1954. He died in 1986 in Hamilton, Ontario. At least four of his First World War portraits were reproduced as post cards by the Canadian War Museum. The soldier depicted in this original art work differs from the one issued as a postcard by the Canadian War Museum in having a shoulder patch of the 4th Canadian Division, 54th Battalion as opposed to the 1st Canadian Division, 14th Battalion.

1914 World War I "Out to the Front" Recruiting Song of the Irish Brigade"

A. R. (Arthur Ryan) : Out to the Front! - Recruiting Song of the Irish Brigade 1914. Words and Music by A. R. - Dedicated by Kind Permission to John E. Redmond. M. P. Sheet Music, 4 Pages, Dublin Cramer Wood & Co. (1915). This copy has the interesting ownership stamps of: Major L.(aurence) Roche, R.M.F. of Bruree, Co. Limerick - GAA & IAAA medal winner, 8th Munster Fusiliers 1914-18, and author of 'Dromin Local History and Traditions'. A. (loys) Duffner - Tipperary jeweller and watchmaker who spent time during the First World War in the Oldcastle internment camp in Co. Meath

Canon Arthur Ryan was the Parish Priest of St. Michael's Church, Tipperary Town from 1903 to 1922. He was an ardent nationalist, and although a friend and correspondent of Pádraig Pearse, he followed John Redmond in the belief that Home Rule would result from the enthusiastic involvement of Irishmen in the Great War. In 1916 he travelled to the Western Front visiting and ministering to the troops of the 16th Irish Division. A member of the 'Scarteen' Ryan family of Limerick, his nephew John Joseph Ryan was killed in Flanders in February 1915.

1914 (24th September) Letter to The Irish Volunteers from the Provisional Committee.

An important two-page mimeograph letter, addressed to the membership of the Irish Volunteers, following John Redmond's assertion that the volunteers' duty was to join the British Army and support the British and Allied war commitment. The letter outlines six proposals to be raised at the next meeting of the Provisional Committee on 25 November, 1914. Signed Eoin MacNeill, Ua Rathghaille, Thomas MacDonagh, Joseph Plunkett, Piaras Beaslai, P. H. Pearse, Bulmer Hobson, et al. This letter initiated the split between the eventual participants in the Easter Rising, who retained the name Irish Volunteers, and Redmond's National Volunteers, many of whom joined the Crown forces in World War I.

1915 Oration of Pearse over Rossa's Grave.

A contemporaneous handbill, published by Fergus O'Connor, Dublin, reproducing Pearse's landmark oration of 1 August 1915. A fine copy of this fragile and historically important piece of Irish Nationalist ephemera.

Jeremiah O'Donovan Rossa was one of the founders of the Irish Republican Brotherhood. He spent a number of terms in prison before being exiled to America, from where he continued to direct Fenian activities. His death in 1915 gave the IRB a propaganda opportunity by bringing his body back to Ireland for a large public funeral in Glasnevin cemetery. This oration delivered at the graveside by Patrick Pearse is considered to be a masterpiece of patriotic rhetoric, containing as it does the iconic ending "-- but the fools, the fools, the fools! They have left us our Fenian dead, and while Ireland holds these graves, Ireland unfree shall never be at peace." It has been argued that this funeral, with its prominent involvement of the Irish Volunteers, starts the countdown to the Rebellion of 1916, when again Pearse makes a defining oration, reading the Proclamation of the Irish Republic from outside the GPO in Sackville Street.

1916 Rising. 1st (Dublin) Battalion Associated Volunteer Training Corps Medal for defender of Beggars Bush Barracks against the Irish Volunteers.

Presented - To - F. C. Stephens. - For services rendered - at - Beggar's Bush Barracks - during rebellion - 1916" A unique award to Frederick Stephens of 1st (Dublin) Battalion Associated Volunteer Training Corps. Open to alumni and friends of the Dublin school, St. Andrews Volunteer Training Corps were one of four companies of professional men, over military age, who made up this militia, known as the Georgius Rex (or "Gorgeous Wrecks"). The Georgius Rex became entangled in the Easter Rising on Monday, 24 April, returning home from manoeuvres, wearing uniforms and carrying rifles but with no ammunition. Marching to Beggar's Bush Barracks they came under fire from Irish Volunteers stationed on the railway bridge and across Mount Street Bridge. By the time they managed to get into the barracks their casualties were four dead and six wounded. Once inside they assisted in the defence of the barracks as best they could with obsolete weapons and almost no ammunition. Silver medal, St. Andrew to obverse and inscribed "St. Andrew's - Volunteer Training Corps", with blue and white ribbon. This is the only recorded example of a medal to this group of Crown forces involved in the Rising" According to the 1911 census, Frederick Stephens was a bookseller from Terenure. At the time of the Rising he was 42 years old.

1916 Defence of Trinity College presentation cup

A silver cup awarded to Cadet George J. Mathews, Dublin University Officer Training Corps, hallmarked for Dublin, 1916, by West & Co. Together with three curfew passes, dated 1st, 3rd and 9th May, issued to Cadet Mathews by Dublin University OTC; Mathew's Officer Training Corps service record mentioning his active part in the suppression of the Sinn Fein outbreak"; and a pass with rail ticket issued to him while serving in the Royal Air Force."

On 24 April, 1916 when gunfire erupted at various locations across Dublin, the gates of Trinity College were closed and locked and all available members of the OTC were deployed around the perimeter and on the rooftops. For the week of the Easter Rising, the OTC assisted by regular British Army troops and a group of 14 'Colonial' soldiers from Australia, Canada, South Africa and New Zealand defended the College. Their presence may or may not have saved the College from incursion by Irish Volunteers, but it almost certainly saved the businesses surrounding it from looting, damage or destruction. It was these businesses who funded the purchase of two large silver cups and 138 miniature replica cups from West & Sons Grafton Street to present to the OTC and its members.

1916 Richmond Barracks, dinner gong Men's Mess

A dinner gong fashioned from a 12lb artillery shell case, suspended from a timber and brass frame. The timber crosspiece inscribed "MENS MESS RICHMOND BKS". The base of the shell case stamped "HMY HELGA THE CALL TO ARMS - LIBERTY STRIKES". The base of the frame centred by circular, domed, copper boss stamped around the edge "G. P. O. MCMXVI - BLACKADDERS BOYS - THE CALL TO ARMS - RICHMOND BKS". A fascinating object."

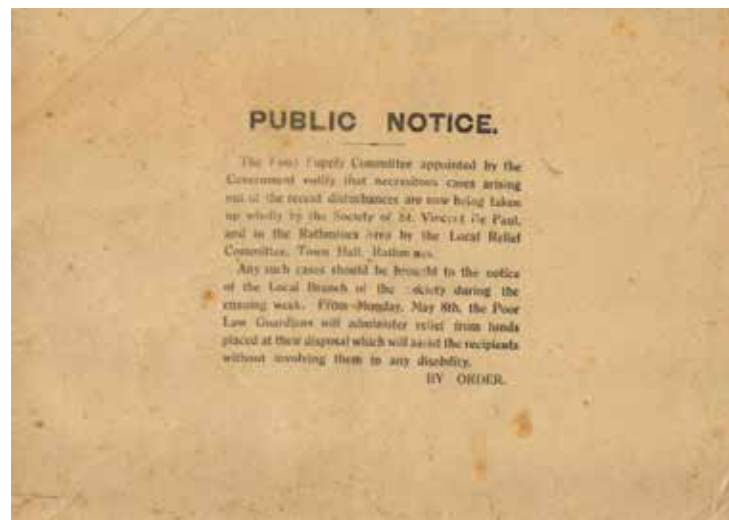

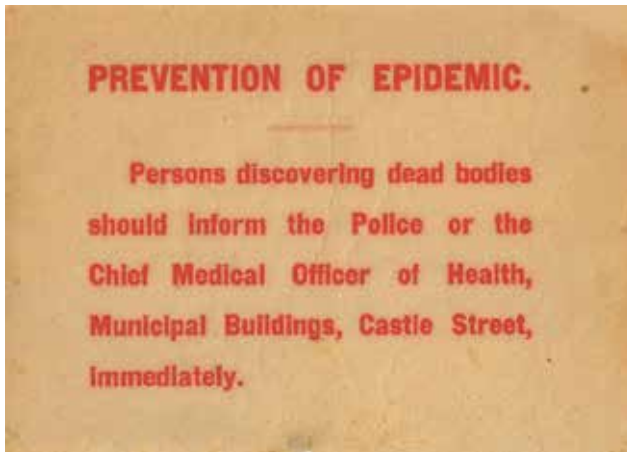

Purchased by the current owner in Islington Market in 1987. Although now living in Ireland, at the time of purchase she was a Japanese student living in London, with no connections to Ireland, who liked the gong because it was reminiscent of a Shinto temple bell.

HMY Helga" refers to the armed auxiliary patrol yacht of that name, armed at the front with a QF twelve-pounder coastal defence gun. On 25 April 1916 the Helga sailed from Dún Laoghaire to shell Boland's Mills, and on the following day fired over the loop line railway bridge at Liberty Hall and at the GPO and surrounding areas. Of the leaders of the Rising arrested in Dublin, Pearse and Heuston were held at Arbour Hill, Connolly was held in the Red Cross hospital in Dublin Castle, and all the others were held at Richmond Barracks. Apart from that of Connolly, whose court-martial was in Dublin Castle, the courts-martial were held at Richmond Barracks. General Blackadder presided over this court. Richmond Barracks continued as the principal detention centre for rounded up rebel soldiers in the aftermath of the rising."

1917 (11 July). Eamon de Valera's first election - signed report.

Returning Officer's Report for East Clare Election signed by Eamon de Valera, who was elected MP for East Clare and Patrick Lynch the Irish Party candidate. An extremely important document marking the start of de Valera's 42 year career as an elected representative. The report lists the number of votes for each ballot box, identified by its station, numbers of spoiled or rejected votes, and the result - 5,010 for de Valera and 2,035 for Lynch.

The by-election in East Clare was caused by the death of William Redmond, the sitting MP, in World War I. Patrick Lynch was regarded by the Irish Party as a shoe in" but the wave of support for Sinn Fein following the 1916 Rising saw de Valera elected by a large majority."

1918 (30 February) Letter by Sean MacEntee sent from Gloucester Prison relating to the 1918 General Election

2pp manuscript to Paddy Conroy. Mentions "poor Frank Lough", discounts rumours that Irish prisoners are to get released soon, which "probably emanate from The Freeman and kindred circles with a view to influencing the Election against us". Scarce. Letters from MacEntee are rarely seen."

Seán MacEntee (1889 – 1984) was an Irish republican politician. He was sentenced to death for his part in the 1916 Rising, but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. In the War of Independence he was a Commandant in the Belfast Brigade of the IRA. Later, in a career that spanned over forty years as a Fianna Fáil Teachta Dála, MacEntee was one of the most important figures in post-independence Ireland. He served in the governments of Éamon de Valera and Seán Lemass in a range of ministerial positions, including Finance, Industry and Commerce, and Health. He was a member of every Fianna Fáil cabinet from 1932 to April 1965. He served as Tánaiste of Ireland from 1959 to 1965. At the time of his death, he was the last surviving member of the First Dáil of 1919..

1923 (18 November) Kilmainham Jail Civil War hunger strike letter

An interesting single page unsigned manuscript letter dated Sunday morning 18 November 1923 and written by an IRA hunger striker. Contents include reference to Cardinal Logue's letter to his diocese and the opinions of hunger strikers if at anytime we should receive a reasonable offer for the safety of our lives and those of our comrades, we will not throw it back in their faces. It is not to humiliate our political or national opponents that we are on hunger strike... we don't want to parade our corpses or those of our comrades for a political show, all we demand is freedom and we stand or fall by that."

1930s A flag of the Army Comrades Association or 'Blueshirts'.

A cotton flag, the blue background with a red diagonal cross hand stitched to both sides. Extremely rare - the first we have found recorded at auction.

The "Blueshirts" was originally the nickname of The Army Comrades Association (ACA), later named National Guard, an organisation set up by General Eoin O'Duffy in 1932. He was a leader in the IRA in the War of Independence and a National Army General during the Civil War. He was Irish Police Commissioner in the Irish Free State from 1922-33 but was dismissed from his position by De Valera in 1933. He took control of the ACA and remodelled the organisation. In the process he adopted a few of the elements and many of the symbols of European fascism. The use of the Roman right arm salute, the blue uniform and the holding of huge rallies became widespread. Membership was restricted to "Irish" people or those whose parents professed the Christian faith. In September 1933 the Blueshirts became part of the newly formed Fine Gael party with O'Duffy as the Fine Gael President and W.T. Cosgrave and John Dillon as Vice Presidents. The Blueshirts" became the youth wing of the party, and although the name was abandoned at the beginning of the war in 1939, it is still applied as a nickname by many political opponents of Fine Gael to all members of the party."

[O'Reilly Edward, attrib.]. 1815-25 Unique manuscript list of writers in the Irish Language.

Alphabetical List of Irish Writers whose Works in Irish are still extant in Verse or Prose. Folio, manuscript, 58 numbered pages (last few blank), on laid paper watermarked 'G R 1814', contemp. green papered boards, in a recent folding case. Marked on title page 'Phillipps Ms. 10259'. A previous owner, the historian P.S. O'Hegarty, has attributed the work tentatively to the lexicographer Edward O'Reilly.

The manuscript is fluently written in ink in both Irish (old script) and English. It includes valuable biographical and literary details of some 500 writers, from the earliest times down to about 1680. For example it includes under H the poet Eochaidh O Heoghusa, 'lived 1630', with a long list of his poems; under D, O Dugan, John, 'chief poet to the O'Kellys of Ibh Maine, died A.D. 1372'; about 30 entries under O'Daly, including 'Goffrey fionn, died A.D. 1508', with a short list of his poems (some corrected or deleted); under B, 'Beinin, St, wrote (as it is said but which I do not believe), the Leabhr na ccert', etc. There are extended entries on Annalists, Book of Ballymote, etc. There are various corrections and interpolations, and clearly the manuscript was a work in progress over a period of years. It runs alphabetically from A to U, with a second alphabetical series starting on p. 35. Edward O'Reilly (1770-1829) moved from Cavan to Dublin about 1790. He was assistant secretary to the Ibero-Celtic Society, and worked in the library of Trinity College, preparing catalogues of manuscripts. In 1817 he published a major Irish-English Dictionary, 'containing upwards of 20,000 words that never appeared in any former Irish lexicon'. In 1820 he published a Chronological Account of Nearly 400 Irish Writers, for which the present manuscript may have provided the source material. An important document, and a rare opportunity to acquire a manuscript from the celebrated Phillipps Collection of Sir Thomas Phillipps (1792-1872), dispersed in sections after his death over a long period. At its height the collection included about 60,000 manuscripts, from all languages and cultures.

George Bernard Shaw signed compliment slip.

Dated Paris, 4 May 1931, and inscribed in Shaw's hand for the Frank Fay Fund. The odd sixpence is for bank charge on a London cheque, GBS", framed with a photograph of Shaw."

Frank Fay (1870-1931), brother of William Fay, was an actor and co-founder of the Abbey Theatre in Dublin, Ireland. He worked with his brother, William, staging productions in halls around the city. Finally, they formed W. G. Fay's Irish National Dramatic Company, focused on the development of Irish acting talent. The brothers participated in the founding of the Abbey Theatre and were largely responsible for evolving the Abbey style of acting. After a falling-out with the Abbey directors in 1908, they emigrated to the United States to work in theatre there. Fay died in 1931, the year of Shaw's contribution to the Frank Fay Fund.

1845. The Caledonian Railway - an important archive of original drawings and manuscripts relating to its engineering and costs.

A large folio containing dozens of engineering and architectural drawings, many linen backed, remainder on tracing paper of track laying, bridges, buildings etc., with detailed manuscript estimates of costings etc. (approx. 60 items). Sizes up to Folio inscribed Mrs Fred White, 19th century hand; private collection, Ireland.

The Caledonian Railway was a major Scottish railway company. It was formed in 1845-1848 with the objective of forming a link between English railways and Glasgow. It progressively extended its network soon reaching Edinburgh and Aberdeen, with a dense network of branch lines in the area surrounding Glasgow. It was absorbed into the London, Midland and Scottish Railway in 1923. Many of its principal routes continue active at the present day, and the original main line between Carlisle and Glasgow is in use as part of the West Coast Main Line railway (with a modified entry into Glasgow itself).

Twenty pence, 1985. The rare trial piece.

These coins were issued in advance of production to various companies and organisations to facilitate calibration of vending machines and other coin operated devices such as telephones, meters etc. According to sources in the Central Bank less than 50 pieces of the 500 or so issued were not returned. To date about ten examples in private hands have been recorded, making it one of the rarest Irish modern coins, even scarcer than the 1943 florin. This example has a slightly speckled appearance with much original colour, about uncirculated.
